CORRESPONDENCE.

The "Era" Corrected Again. For the North York Sentinel. Mr. Editor, In the last issue of the Era an article more than a column long, against a "Wesleyan."

The Editor of the Era appears to possess a peculiar talent for self-education, in the way of declamation, and threats of discomfiture. He finally works himself into a rage and calls me a "silly elf."

My opponent says I "should have pinned him a note or seen him personally, and requested a correction of the error, if error existed." I have reason to believe that one member did call on him and request a modified statement, after his first attack—and that a second one called and objected to his interference in toto—still he has persisted in his course.

But the Editor of the Era again states:—"A Wesleyan seems to think we are out of place in referring to the matter." Most assuredly I do think so, for the reason that I would have no right to interfere in his family affairs, unless some law of the land had been outraged.

August 12, 1856. A. WESLEYAN. Sixteen persons were bitten by mad dogs in Patterson, N. J., so severely that their death is regarded as certain, and one has already resulted fatally—in the case of a young man aged 27 years.

Mass Meeting in Peterborough. By a telegraphic despatch received on Saturday, we learn that Peterborough has spoken out emphatically. An enthusiastic public meeting of the electors was held on the previous evening, and resolutions passed unanimously, condemning the treacherous policy and base acts of the present Administration, and in favor of petitioning the Governor to dissolve the present parliament.

Edmund Murray, Esq., and the Legislative Council. The Belleville Intelligencer, speaking of this gentleman in connection with the Trent Electoral District says:—"Should Mr. Murray be the candidate, we have every reason to believe he will, we much doubt whether there will be any opposition; whether or not, his election would be sure; as we have good reason to believe that Peterborough would unanimously support him."

News Items. The Kingston papers say that the Government has completed the purchase of the Cartwright property in that city, for the location of a new lunatic asylum, chiefly for the use of criminal lunatics, an institution much needed in that locality.
